In Memoriam

MISS JENNIE LLOYD

Miss Jennie Lloyd, a popular history teacher at North Side high school, died on December 16, 1949, after having taught in the school for twelve years. During the 1948-1949 session, she had to be absent much of the time, and she did not return for the fall semester in 1949.

At a memorial service held in her honor in the auditorium, Principal Ernest F. Sellars paid this tribute to her years of service at North Side High:

"She was loved as a friend as well as an instructor. Pupils and teachers alike will miss the smile with which she greeted every person every day. She enjoyed life to the fullest, and she made a gallant attempt to regain her health and return to the school she loved."

Born in Fort Worth, Miss Lloyd was graduated from Central high school, received a B.A. and an M.A. from Columbia University. She traveled in the United States, Canada, Mexico and Europe.

She belonged to local, state, and national education associations and to the Broadway Baptist church. Interested in all student activities, Miss Lloyd cheered at the games, attended school parties, helped decorate for Western Day, and served several times as senior class sponsor, the last time being in 1944.

With a smile on her face
And a wave of her hand,
She bade farewell to the earth;
She turned toward the bright land.

J. P. MOORE

Superintendent of Schools

They Directed Fort Worth's Schools in 1949-50

Heading the list of important personnel of the Fort Worth schools are Mr. Joe P. Moore, superintendent of public schools, and Mr. W. A. Meacham, assistant superintendent.

These two men have the strenuous jobs of appointing teachers, deciding what days are to be holidays, arranging courses to be taken, and handling many hundred other such tasks.

Mr. Moore, an ex North Side student, was first a teacher. From this, he worked up to vice-principal, principal, assistant superintendent, and finally to his present superintendent's position.

Mr. Meacham, assistant superintendent of high schools, has been in administrative work for 18 years. Before coming into the Fort Worth system, he was superintendent of the Riverside independent school district. In Fort Worth he was first principal of Riverside elementary and junior high school. He has also been principal of J. P. Elder junior high and of Polytechnic high school.

ERNEST F. SELLARS, principal

North Side's principal, Ernest F. Sellars, is always ready to lend a helping hand whenever and wherever one is needed. He plays the role of "Good Sam" whenever it comes to ironing out the griefs of teachers pertaining to students and other problems.

Keeping 650 students happy and contented is no easy job, and a constant battle is also waged on their behalf.

The students' guardian angels come in the form of Miss Margaret Hooker, dean of girls, and Mr. Hubert J. Brown, vice-principal.

Whether it is a tardy slip to be signed, a dismissal to be approved, or a case of someone cutting class, Miss Hooker and Mr. Brown are on hand to take care of it.

Besides the afore-mentioned duties, Miss Hooker also has the task of averaging grades to see who is eligible for the Spur Club and National Honor Society, for both of which she is sponsor.

To occupy his spare time, Mr. Brown holds the position of sponsor of the business staff of both The Lariat and The Lasso.

To sum things up, the school could not be run properly without the combined work of these three.

Seniors Are Through

Senior Class President—BOBBY MOORE

Nineteen Hundred and fifty—the half-century mark, and mark of the beginning of a new life for the '50 graduating seniors. What a wonderful feeling!

Recognition, excitement, and glamour all go with the magic title of senior. The recognition? All year long seniors were the "big wheels" who led the Steers through a maze of activities such as Dogie Day and Homecoming.

Excitement? Ah, yes. Senior day was the height of excitement when all the graduating class, dressed in their Sunday best, were given a luncheon in the cafeteria, presented a program in the auditorium, received awards as outstanding members of the class, and then left school to spend the afternoon at a movie. The January class celebrated on December 15, while the June class held court April 21.

Added fun came to the June class, May 18, when they held their annual swimming party and barbecue at Burger's Lake.

Class election was another highlight of the year when Bobby Moore was elected president and A. D. Dunn, Donna Muffett, and Peggy Scott were named vice-president, secretary, and reporter, respectively.

The mid-term class elected Barbara Head president with Allan Bridges, vice-president, and Betty June Lowe, secretary.

Glamour galore appeared at the formal senior dinner-dances held January 17 at the Peninsula Club with Harry Thompson's orchestra for the mid-termers, and May 5 at Colonial Country Club for the June grads. Their music was furnished by Mr. Kenneth Vaughn's orchestra.

Another feather in the caps of the '50 graduating class were the baccalaureate services. The January graduates heard their sermon at Rosen Heights Baptist Church Sunday morning, January 22. The larger June class service was held in mass with all the high schools at Farrington Field on May 28.

Then came the big night which combined recognition, glamour, and excitement. Yes, the graduation exercises. What a thrill for the 32 of the mid-year class to walk across the North Side High auditorium stage to receive their diplomas from Mr. Ernest F. Sellars, principal. That night, January 24, Betty Eck Davis and Freddy Byas, honor graduates, held the lime-light. Equally exciting was the May 30 graduation ceremonies for 172 seniors who marched across the stage at Will Rogers Auditorium to receive their diplomas and bid good-by to "Old North Side."

Allan Bridges, vice-president; Barbara Head, president, and Betty June Lowe, secretary, leaders of the January class.

Sponsor

Mrs. Fannie Mae Curry, commercial teacher, received her college education from North Texas State College.

Mrs. Curry, an industrious, easy-to-know person, has little time for outside activities, but she enjoys playing bridge, swimming, and golf.

As senior class sponsor, she spends a good deal of her time working with school activities. One of her hobbies is cooking, very useful hobby when she is in the role of housewife.

She enjoys spending her leisure time watching a good football or basketball game, especially if it's

North Side playing.

Travel is the favorite hobby of Miss Otsie V. Betts, English instructor. Miss Betts has traveled from Canada to Lower California and has visited nearly all the forty-eight states.

Miss Betts attended the University of Colorado, University of Texas, and North Texas State College. She received a B.A. degree from Baylor University and an M.A. degree from Texas Christian University.

As sponsor of the youth organization, Future Teachers of America Association, she finds little time for her other hobbies, writing verse, caring for flowers, and collecting articles of interest dealing with North Side high school.

Mrs. Nan-Isca Daniels, clothing instructor, has a big job. Besides her teaching position at North Side, she is a dietician at All Saints Hospital.

She is a considerate, quiet person. Her leisure time, if there is any, is spent with her family. She is the mother of three small children.

During the summer months, Mrs. Daniels and her husband are ardent baseball fans. Her favorite activity is horseback riding, and she rides as often as possible.

She received her college education from Arlington State College, Texas Tech, and Texas State College for Women.

A small, jolly woman is Miss Mary Davies, clothing instructor, one who makes her job as a teacher into a hobby. Handwork such as crocheting and knitting is another of her hobbies. Miss Davies also makes beautiful leather gloves.

She attended the Texas State College for Women in Denton and Columbia University in New York.

A new interest was aroused in travel recently, when Miss Davies purchased a new Chevrolet. Her interest in travel has been stimulated as a direct result.

Building different types of machinery is the hobby of Mr. Bob Debenport, mechanical drawing and metal shop teacher.

He has many other hobbies such as raising chickens, hiking, picnicking, swimming, and hosting steak fries. Mr. Debenport also enjoys a good dance, especially if it is to Guy Lombardo or Jan Garber.

During the summer he enjoys travel. Mr. Debenport, a happy, understanding man, travels for the scenic beauty. He has visited nearly all of the states and many of the National Parks. Mountainous country offers his favorite scenery. He attended College at E.T.S.T.C. at Commerce, A&M, and Texas Christian University.

Hunting and fishing are the favorite sports of Lewis Doan, North Side baseball coach.

Mr. Doan, a jolly, considerate man, received his education from Southwestern University and Texas Christian University.

A family man and the father of two boys, Mr. Doan has little time for a nice, quiet book, but once in a while he has time to enjoy one.

One always does best in the things he enjoys most, and Mr. Doan likes sports of all kinds. As a coach, he says he has the opportunity to fulfill his desires. He enjoys both watching and participating in any type of athletics or sports.

Mr. Ted Koonce, a tall, jolly man, is North Side's basketball coach and teacher of wood shop.

Fishing and hunting are his favorite hobbies, but he claims he finds little time for other pleasures because he spends all of his leisure time going to school.

At the present time, Mr. Koonce is working on his Master's Degree at North Texas State College, at Denton.

During the war he served as a pilot in the United States Air Corps. After his discharge from the Air Corps, he finished school and became basketball coach at North Side.

He received his college education from the North Texas State College.

"Jack of all trades!" Yes, Mr. H. R. McDaniel, chemistry teacher is certainly a "jack of all trades," and master of many.

During his years at North Side he has taught world history, American history, chemistry, physics, biology, commercial arithmetic, and boys' physical education, and has, at times, directed the band.

Mr. McDaniel, a very dry-witted, likable man, has charge of all the photography for both The Lasso and The Lariat.

Study of the derivation of words is the hobby of Mr. Mahew Manor, English instructor.

For quite some time Mr. Manor has been interested in the history and character of words, a study called derivation. He also collects jokes to tell to his classes to keep them from being dull. Another of his hobbies is practical tricks.

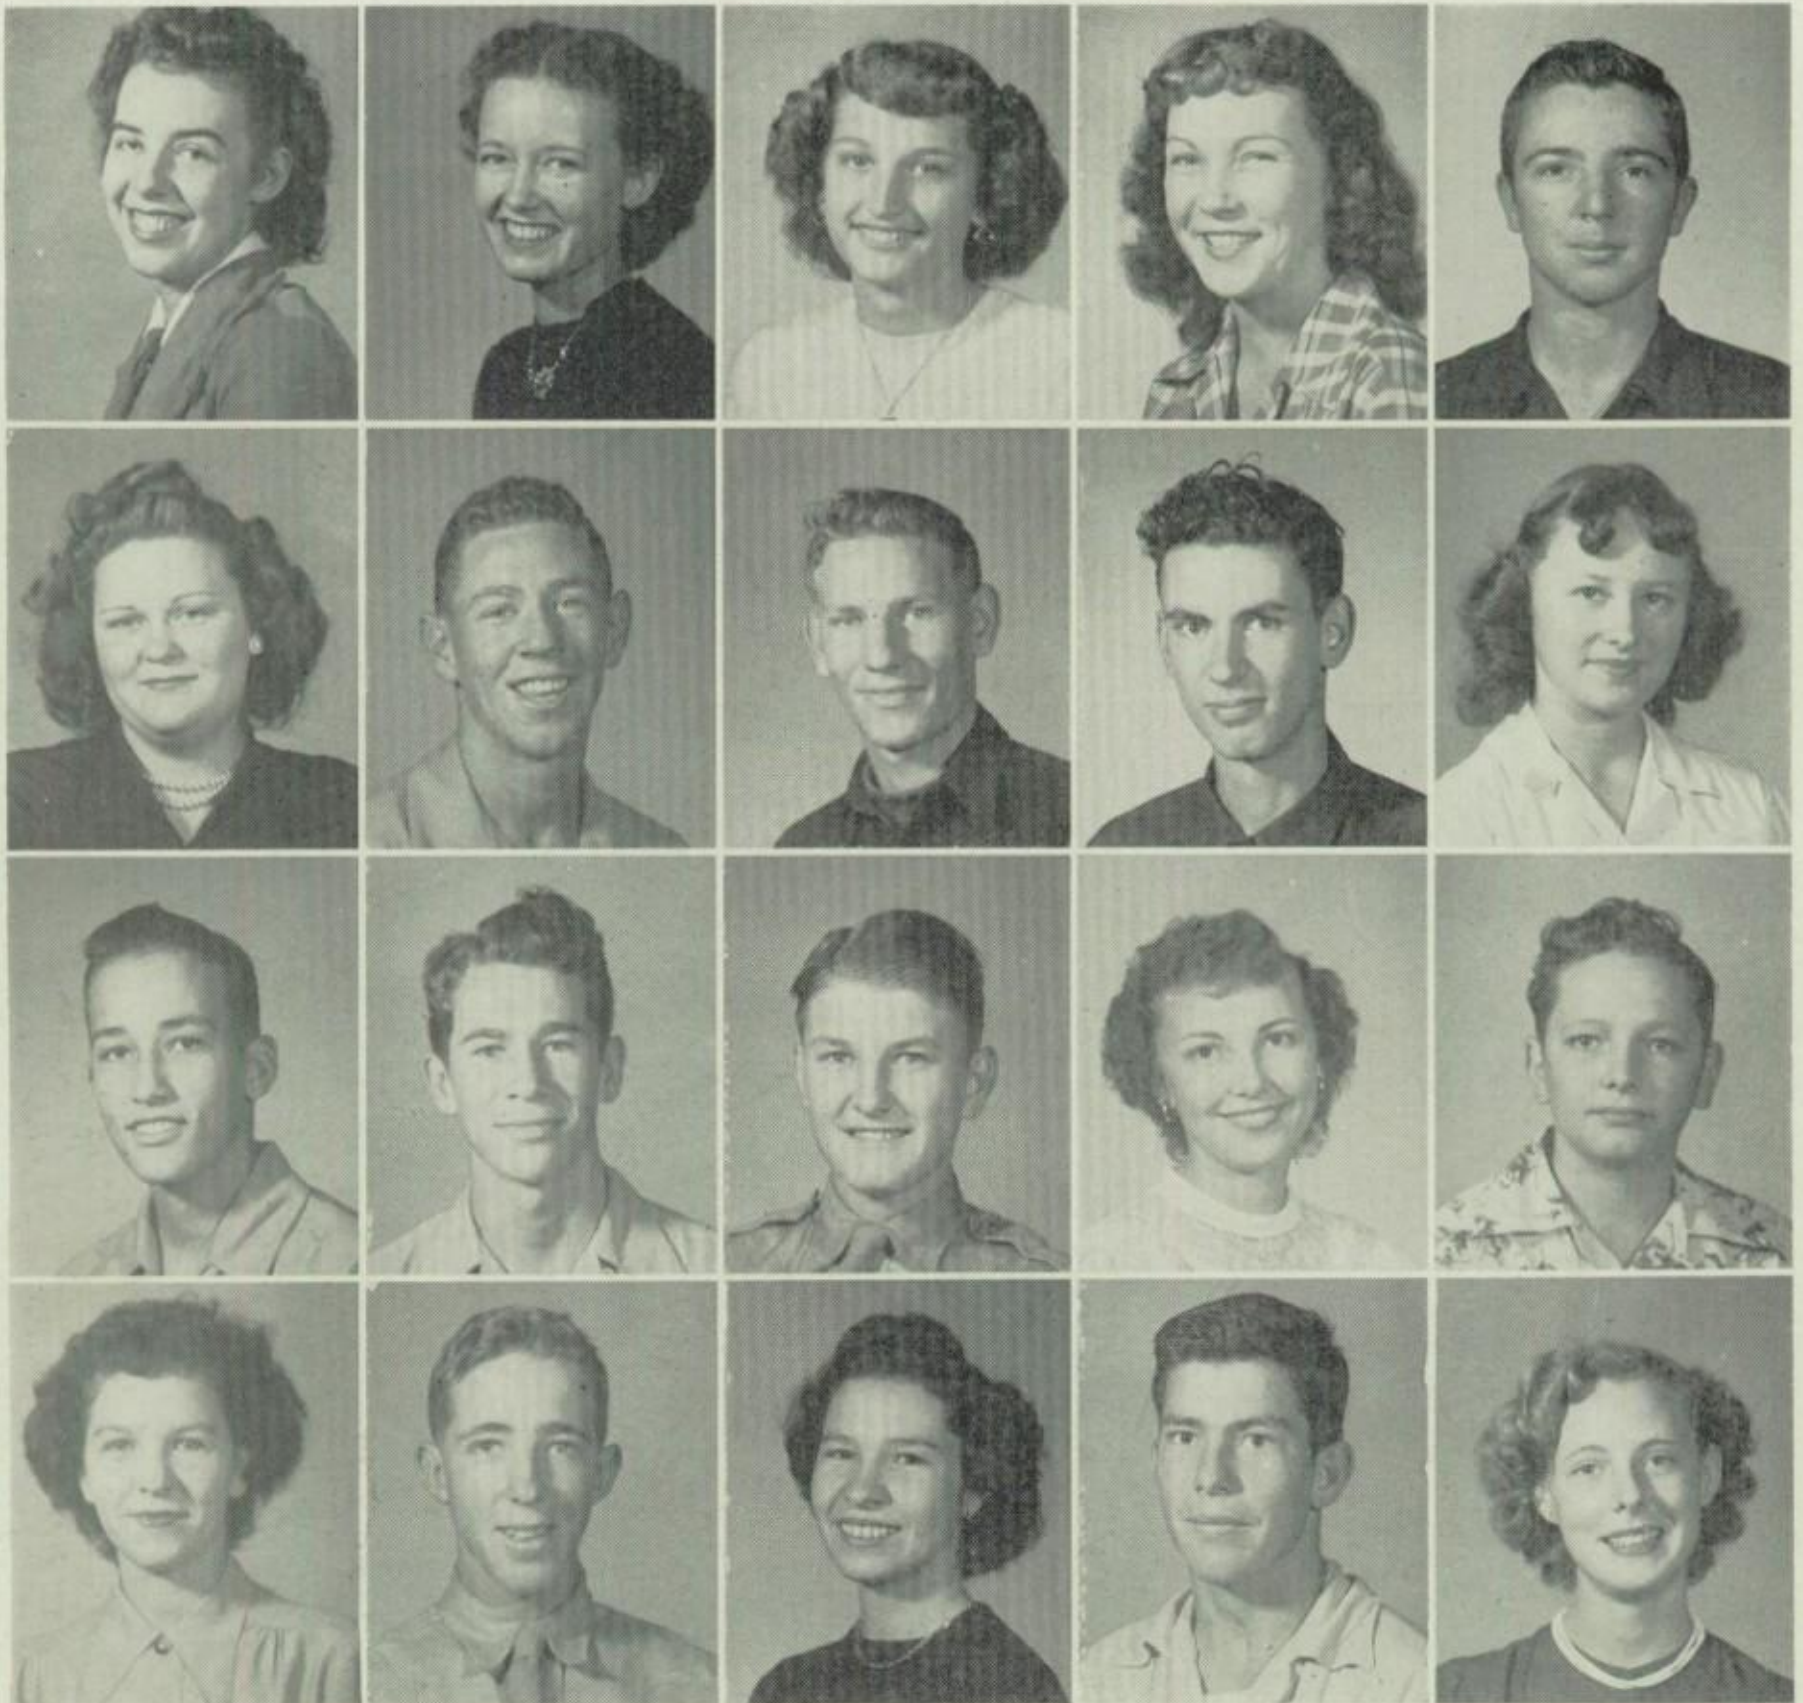

Mr. Manor, a quiet, conservative man, can speak several different languages. Among them are Latin, German, Spanish, French, Anglo-Saxon, and Greek.

He received his college education from the Virginia Military Institute, the University of Texas, and Texas Christian University.

Mrs. Cara Millsap, girls' physical education director, attended North Texas State College.

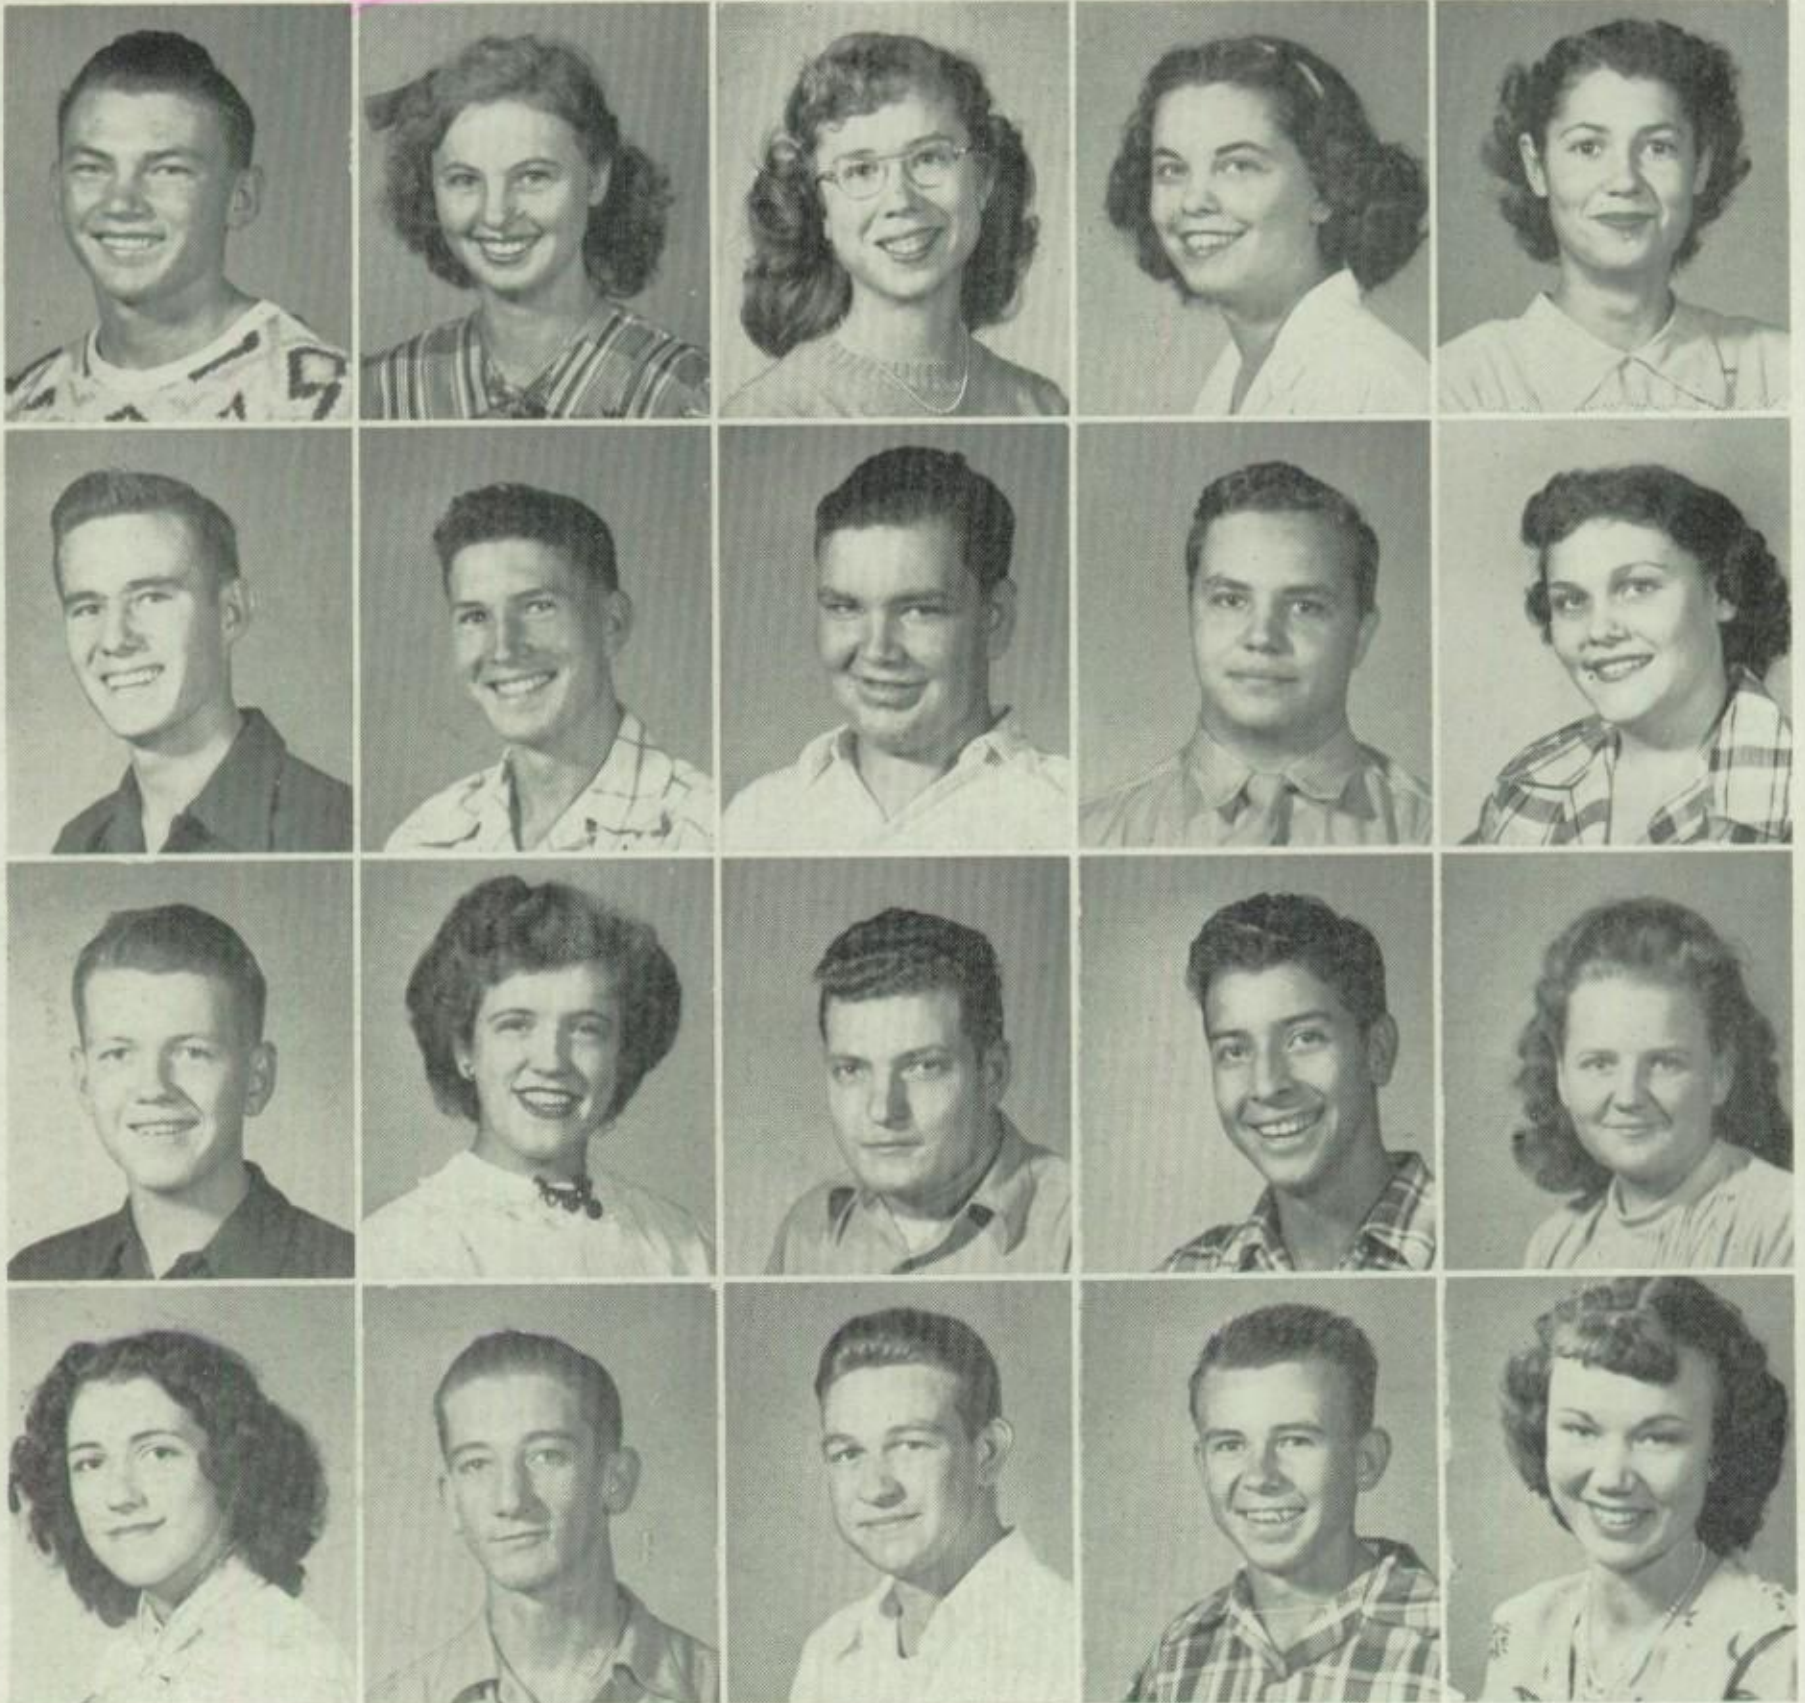

She is a member of the Fort Worth Physical Education Professional Club and her principal interests follow along the same line as her profession. She enjoys bowling, archery, and roller skating and is also an ardent baseball fan. Flying is a rather unusual hobby for a woman, but Mrs. Millsap and her husband spend most of their leisure time at this activity.

Mrs. Millsap, a very active, witty, young woman has a useful hobby, cooking. She says she really enjoys cooking, and her specialty is pie.

Must be something interesting.

Mr. L. B. Morris, track coach, made a hobby into a profession, since for many years he has been a sports enthusiast.

Coach Morris attended Denton high school and received his college education from North Texas State College.

Besides his position as track coach, Mr. Morris works at his business, the Wholesale Fire Works Company in Fort Worth.

Mr. Morris, a very considerate man with an outstanding personality, coached an all state track team last year. Mr. Morris spends his leisure time, what little he has, entertaining his two young sons, Monty, a well-known figure to North Siders, and young Barry Mack.

Mr. Morris, what's so funny?

Lt. Jack Wheelis, a tall, witty man, is North Side's R.O.T.C. teacher.

During the war criminal trials the lieutenant was stationed at Nuremberg, Germany. He spent his leisure time hunting and has bagged such game as wild boar, deer, pheasant, and ducks. His wife and daughter joined him in Germany, and their second daughter was born in Germany.

Lt. Wheelis has traveled extensively in Europe, visiting Paris, Austria, Switzerland, and many other places of interest.

He attended Texas Technological College at Lubbock. Lt. Wheelis says, "I like North Side better than any other school, and I am very happy here."

Ronnie McBee

A good-natured, tall, dark-haired student is Ronnie McBee, senior favorite. Ronnie has always proved popular with his classmates and always has a friendly smile and word for everyone.

All-district end in football, Who's Who of the year in boy's P. E., and senior favorite are only a few of the accomplishments of Ronnie.

Ronnie has been outstanding in sports all during his high school years, taking an active part in football, baseball, and basketball.

He has lettered in football two years, was all-district two years, and was all-state this year.

Captain of the basket ball team was Ronnie's job last year. He has lettered three years in basketball.

Ronnie was president of the N Club last year and was a member of the fall Lariat staff.

He was out for baseball in the spring, although completion of his eligibility kept him from playing.

Basketball really paid off for Ronnie, as he was one of the four boys picked by Coach Buster Brannon of TCU for a basketball scholarship. Ronnie plans to become a coach after finishing college.

Not squirrels, but just Herby Teasley, '49 junior favorite, and Don Carrol, senior yell leader, nominees for senior favorite of '50.

Doris Barton

A sweet personality, blond hair, and blue eyes all rolled into one. This is none other than the senior favorite for '50, Doris Barton.

Doris, who has served as yell leader during her senior year is the choice of her classmates for this top honor of favorite.

During her junior year, Doris was elected Basketball Queen and accompanying this honor was the job of representing North Side at the BRO banquet for the election of BRO Queen.

A member of the N Club and the Lariat Staff, Doris says her most thrilling experience has been being yell leader.

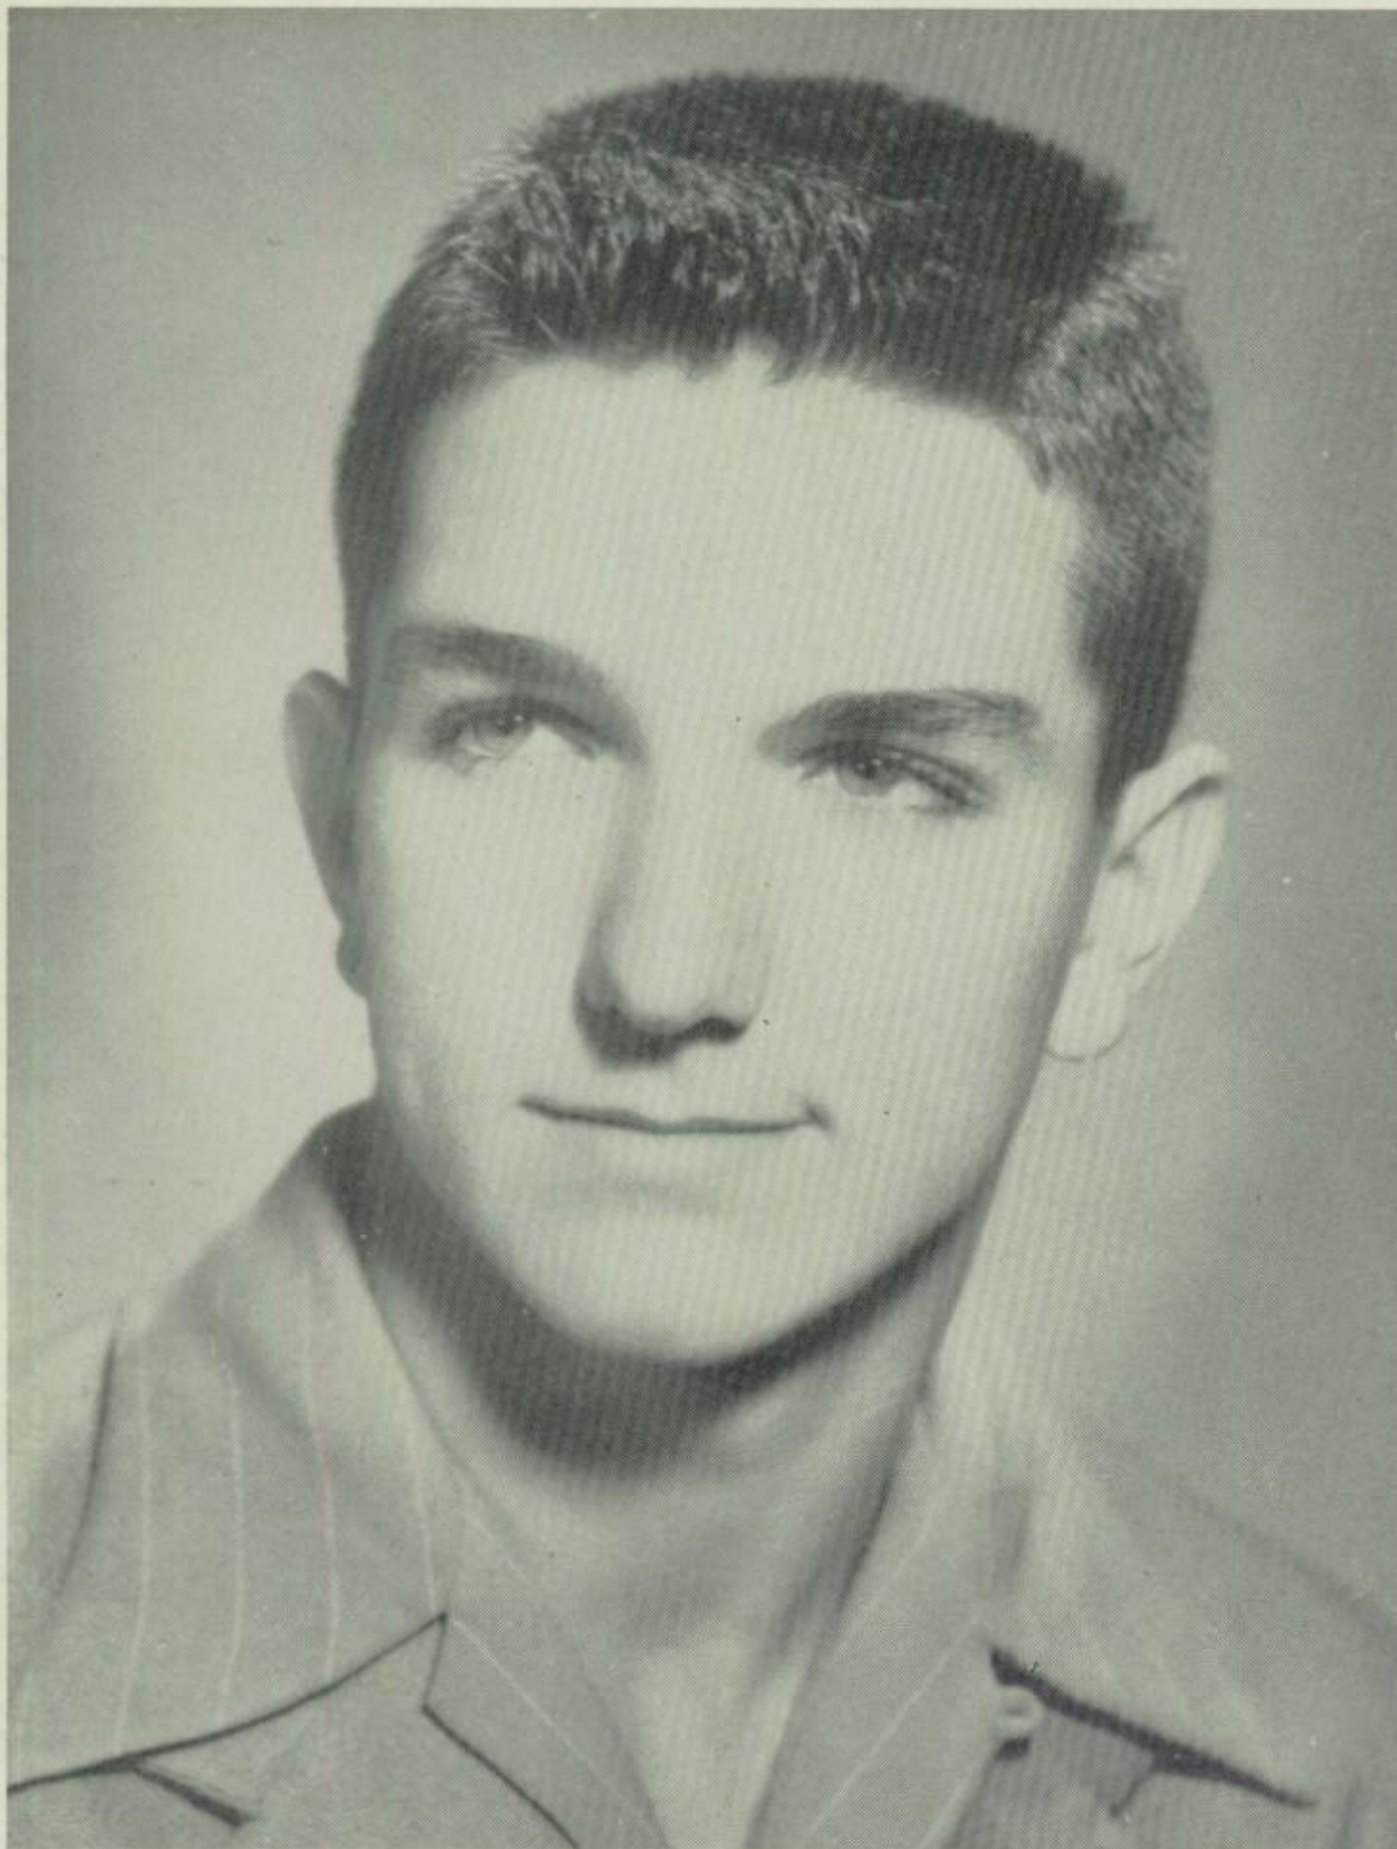

Doris likes all sports, but especially tennis. She plays tennis every day and hopes to become good at the game.

Doris plans to attend TCU in September and major in secondary education. She plans to become a high school teacher, but as yet she is undecided as to what subject she would like to teach.

Spring and sunshine seem to be in the faces of these senior runner-up, Joan Windmiller, senior head yell leader, and Barbara Brown, secretary of the Spur Club.

Donald Anderson

Donald was runner-up for sophomore favorite last year, but this year he made the grade when his classmates made him tops by electing him their favorite junior boy.

Donald served as yell leader during his sophomore year, helping to add to that old North Side spirit.

Speech has proved one of Donald's outstanding subjects. He held a leading part in one of the plays last year and is a member of the Thespian Society, Troop 378.

Baseball is his favorite sport. He was on the second string and played the position of second base.

Being a yell leader entitled him to be a member of the N Club.

A member of the Journalism 1 class this term, Donald hopes for a staff position on The Lariat next year.

Donald will be high senior in September and, upon graduation at mid-term, plans to attend TCU.

To be a senior yell leader is Donald's chief ambition. He plans to run for election in the fall.

These happy faces belong to Chester Slawson, junior yell leader, and Edward "Toppy" Ponder, junior class president, who were runner-up for junior favorite.

Kitty Malone

Dark-haired, petite, sweet—that's the junior favorite, Kitty Malone. Friendliness is one of Kitty's outstanding traits. Her friendly smile is always ready for everyone she meets.

Being yell leader for the past two years has kept Kitty busy along with her many other activities.

Tumbling is one of Kitty's accomplishments. She has taken tumbling for the past four years under the direction of Glen Wilcox at the City Recreation Hall. She has taken part in the Recreation circuses annually along with her brothers Jack and Tommy and is Southwestern AAU Junior Tumbling Champion.

Kitty is a member of the Spur Club and has achieved her silver spurs. She is a member of the advisory council and also secretary of the N Club.

She was home room representative for The Lasso.

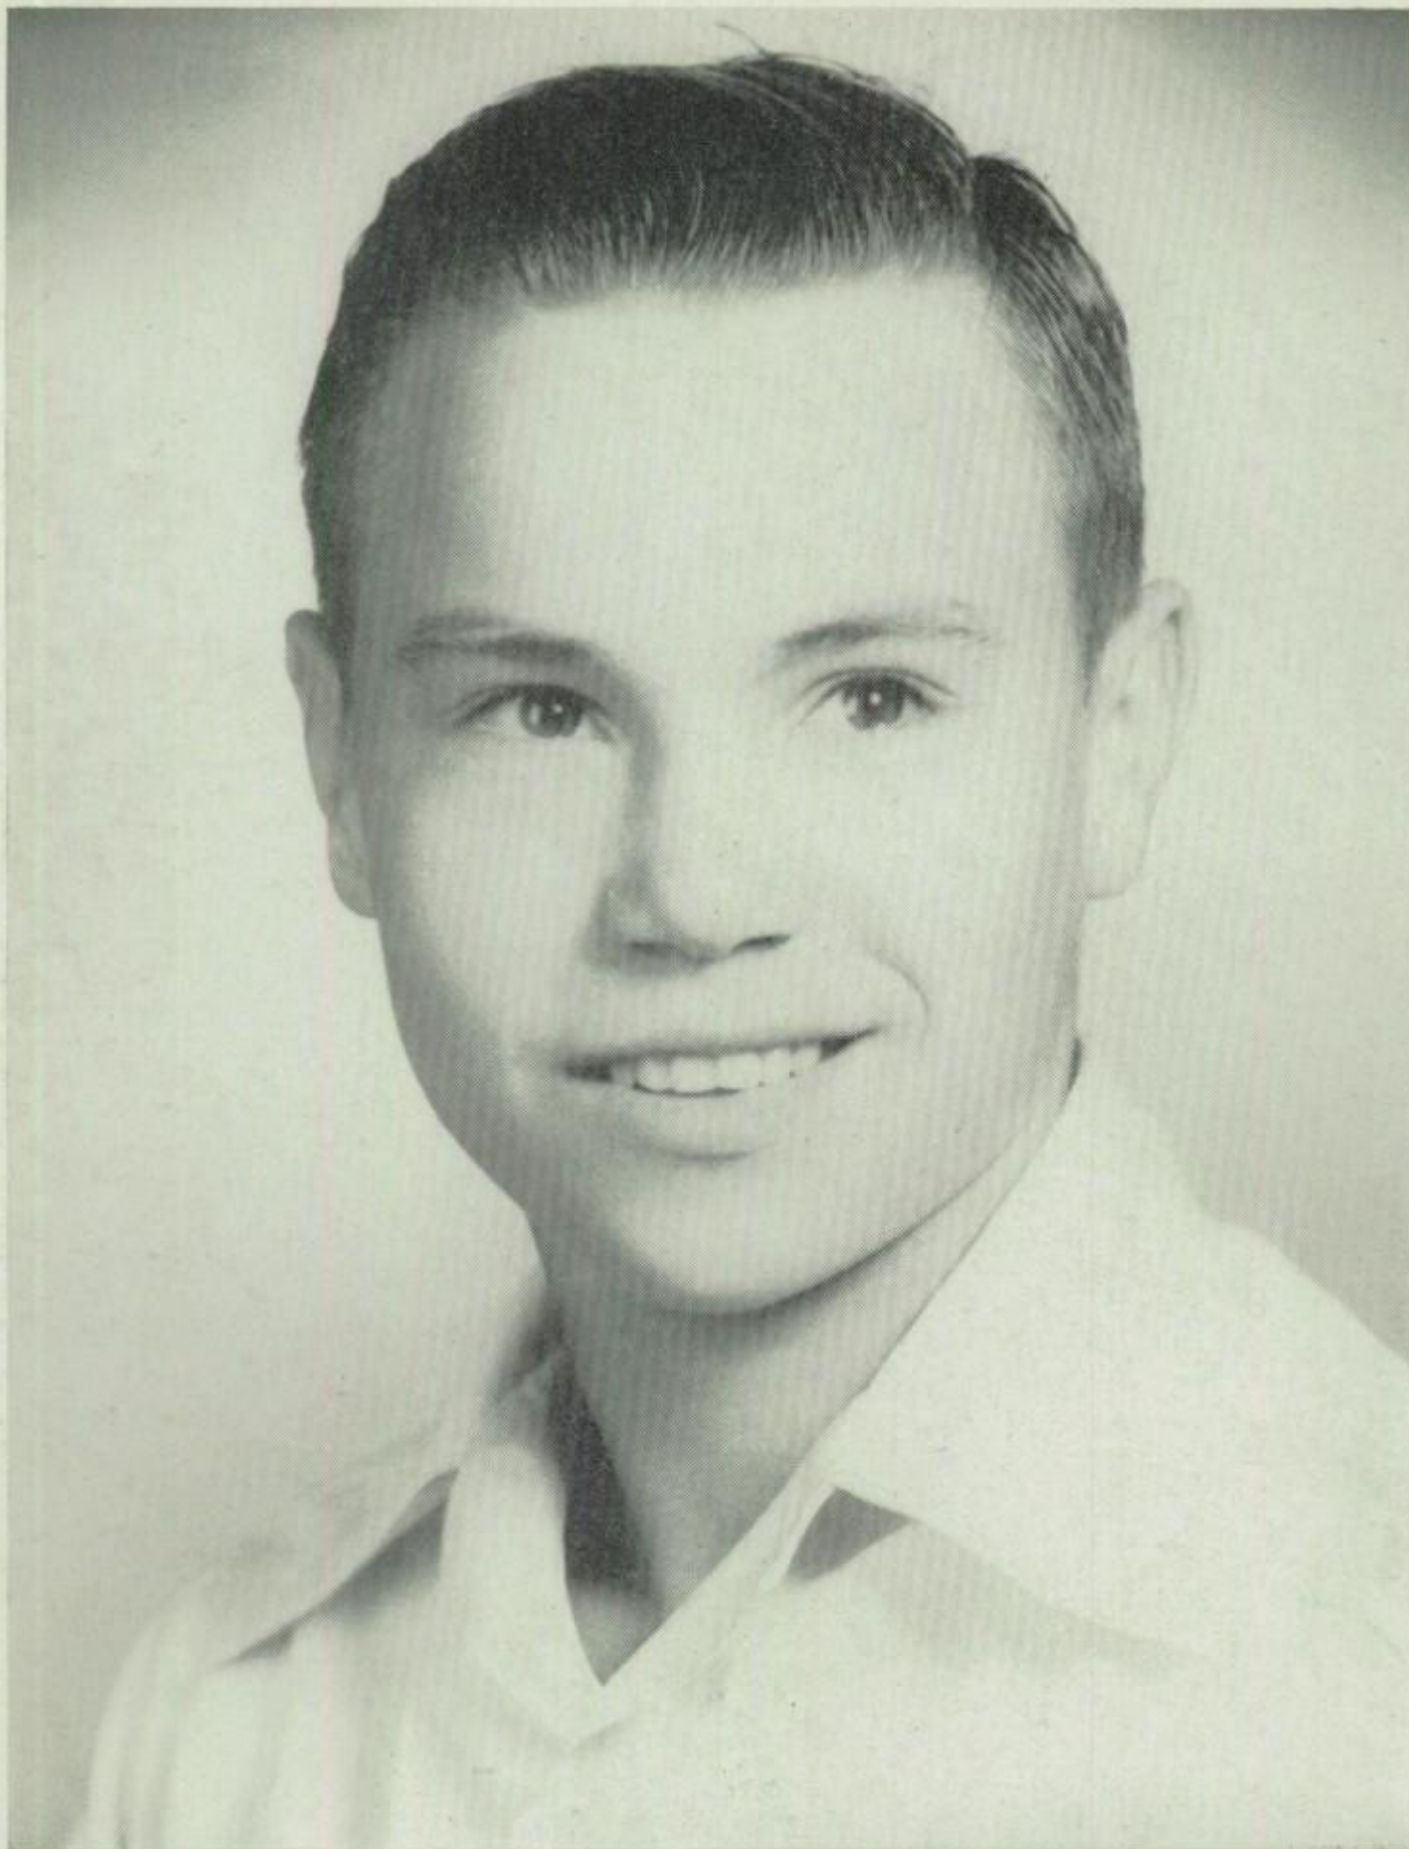

She was nominee for favorite last year along with this year's favorites, Donald Anderson, Doris Barton and Ronnie McBee.

Kitty worked in the Opera "Faust" doing a ballet with a group.

To be head yell leader is Kitty's chief ambition. She plans to run for yell leader again next year.

Billy Spruill

His first year in high school gave Billy Spruill one big honor to remember—being named sophomore favorite. Billy says he thinks being sophomore favorite is really swell and that it is just about as high an honor as anyone could want to achieve. His classmates seemed to think his rating high enough to award him this honor.

A bright friendly smile and brown hair and eyes are characteristic of Billy.

He likes all sports, but especially football. He lettered in football last year at J. P. Elder, and he was captain of the Steer's B team in the fall. Billy plans to go out for football next year.

He lettered in track for two years at J. P. Elder, but baseball has taken up his time at North Side where he played catcher for the second string.

Biology is Billy's favorite subject, and hunting and fishing are his favorite hobbies. He says he enjoys the outdoors, and his tan proves this.

To be a class officer is Billy's highest ambition for next year.

Bright smiles wreath the faces of Ralph Carr, sophomore yell leader, and Roger "Willie" Driskill, manager of the football team, who were runner-up for sophomore favorite.

President of the sophomore class, and now class favorite—these top honors were given to Doris Lucas, popular, dark-haired sophomore in her first year at North Side.

Honors seem to have followed Doris for the past two years. She was president of her senior class at J. P. Elder, and being yell leader for two years at Elder occupied a lot of Doris's time. She was named head yell leader last year at Elder.

Brains as well as popularity have helped Doris. She won her bronze spurs this year to become a member of the Spur Club. Her ability in speech class helped her to become a member of the Thespian Society Troop 378.

Working on the Lasso has occupied her study hall this past term. She has served as sophomore assistant on the Lasso staff.

Swimming is her favorite sport although she enjoys watching other sports.

Doris says her chief ambition for next year is to become a junior.

Smiling from their perch, these cute sophomore, Charlene Boyd and Betty Porter, sophomore yell leader, ran Doris Lucas a close race for the honor of favorite.

Office Assistants Count Noses

While Library Crew Counts Books

The main duties of the library assistants are to shelve and check out books. Like office helpers, when they have worked two years, providing one of which is the senior year, they will receive silver Steer Heads in recognition of their service. Library workers for '50 are, seated, Patsy Woodson, Donna Bennett, Iva Mae Andrews, and Betty Porter; Standing, Mae Jean Hill, Marie Yovanovich, Joan Dove, Ernestine Roberts, Wanda Colquitt, Gene Lane, Barbara Bennett, Maroy Ann Sellers, Mildred Lancaster, Richard Dutton, and Marlene Evans.

At North Side. Even the Military Side Has Glamour

The Reserve Officers Training Corps is a small but well-rounded organization at North Side. It is well-balanced with work, play, and social activities.

Work consists of drilling, studying maps, learning how to operate guns and the different operations they perform. This year's rifle team consists of Clifton Hale, J. D. Horne, Don McConnell, Eugene Drennan, Raymond Hubenak, and Don Corley. This team represented North Side in the Arlington State College Rifle Match and the R. O. T. C. City Championship Rifle Team Match. The Sponsors' Rifle Team also had several matches. North Side also entered the Platoon Competition April 20.

The North Side Corps had several socials during the year. These consisted of dances, parties, picnics, and hayrides. A big all-city R. O. T. C. Christmas Party was held at the Reserved Officers Headquarters on Blue Mound Road, and the Annual all-city R. O. T. C. Ball was held April 14, at the Casino. North Side sponsor Peggy Stokes was named All-City R. O. T. C. Queen at this ball.

Two days a week are set aside for the boys to participate in sports during their R. O. T. C. period. The boys participate in the sport that is in season.

Lieutenant Jack Wheelis, left, and Sergeant Ollie Jacobs have command of the R. O. T. C. activities for the year.

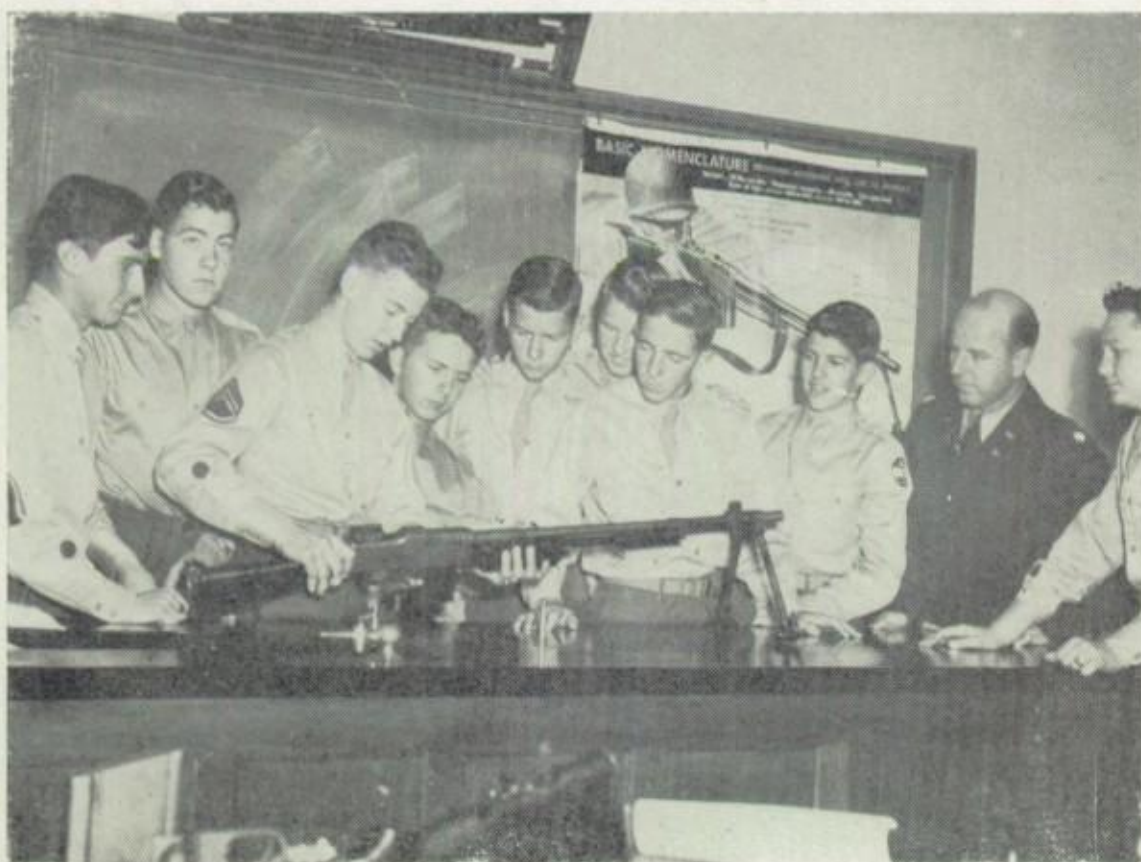

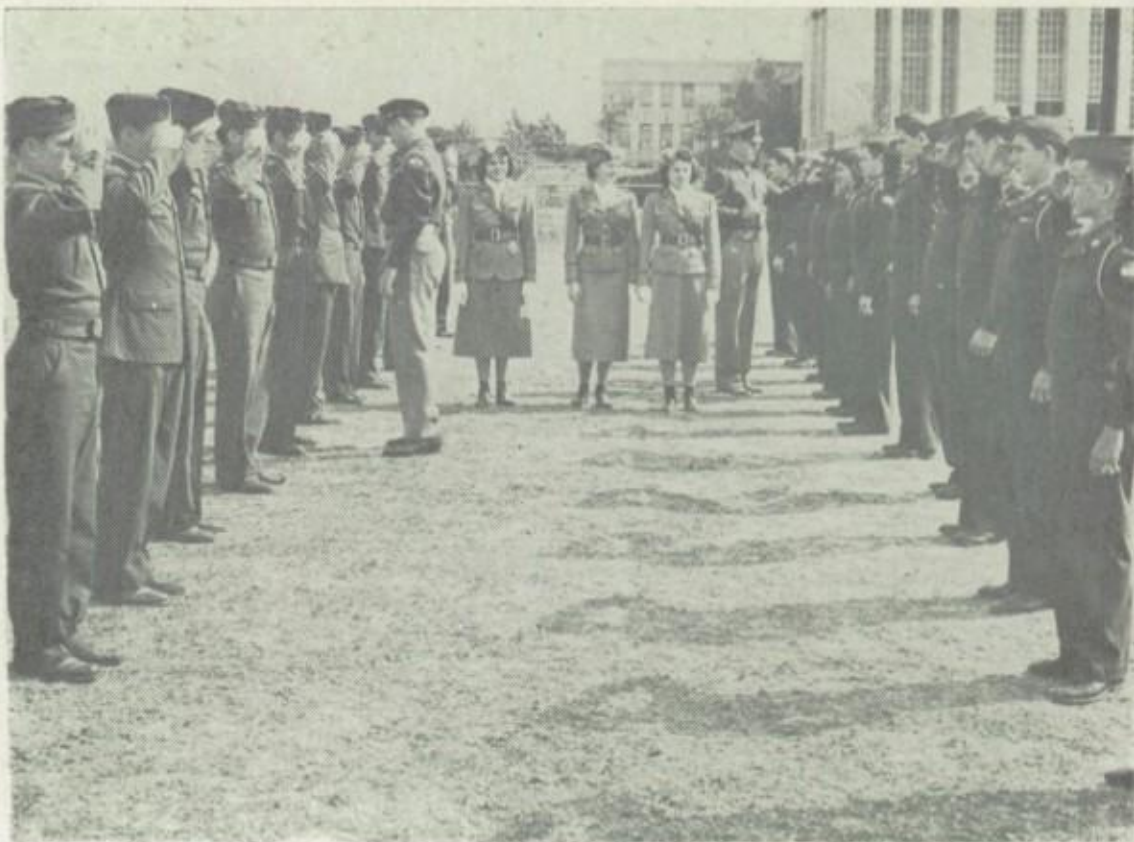

The feminine side of the R. O. T. C. consists of Colonel Nell LaGrone, faculty sponsor, and Cadet Majors Barbara Williams, Peggy Stokes, and Lieutenant Colonel June Johnson.

High ranking officers in the R. O. T. C. are, left to right, Cadets Major Peggy Stokes, Second Lieutenant Harold Collins, Lieutenant Colonel June Johnson, Second Lieutenant Herbert Rush, Major Barbara Williams, and Major J. D. Horne. Highest ranking officer, J. D. Horne, is also a member of the rifle team. He has been a member of the corps all three years he has been at North Side.

R. O. T. C. inspection is a very formal affair with every button in place and all ties straight. Officers and cadet sponsors review the troops at attention.

Sergeant Reid explains the uses and workings of the Browning Automatic rifle while his fellow members look on with interest.

Lots of target practice must go into making good marksmen. North Side's rifle team consists of, kneeling, Jack Luker, Don Corley, Eugene Drennan. Standing are J. D. Horne, Gilbert King, and Clifton Hale.

Speech Class Presents Stage Stars of '50

Curtain! Curtain! Everybody on stage for first curtain.

And the curtain at North Side has been raised this season on five major productions, under the direction of Mrs. Snow Weatherred, speech instructor.

Three major speech productions presented by the 1950 fall class were "He Ain't Done Right by Nell," "Home for Henry," and "Are You Mr. Butterworth?"

"He Ain't Done Right by Nell," an old-fashioned melodrama, was the first production of the year. It was a typical comedy with a hero, heroine, a villain, and a simple plot.

A three-act comedy, "A Home for Henry," was the second production presented by the dramatics class. The plot dealt with the building of a home for Henry, financed by his aunt with several thousand dollars worth of bonds. The home was to be built for Henry and Cynthia to live in according to his aunt, but Henry wanted to marry Doris whom his auntie didn't like. Lots of complications!

"Are You Mr. Butterworth?" This was the common question asked to all speech students in hopes that someone might come up with the answer. "Are You Mr. Butterworth?" was a three-act mystery comedy which was the last play of the fall speech class. This mystery comedy dealt with the investigation and finding of Mr. Bushinsky's jewels. No one knows who Mr. Butterworth, the hotel owner, is until the very last scene. There, of course, was a romantic side to the play and also much humor.

"Grandma's Best Year" and "Goodby Hollywood" were the two three-act comedies given by the spring speech classes.

Radio speaking is also studied by the speech students. During the fall term they presented "Tragedy of Comedy" which was broadcast over the school's public address system. The spring class gave the Easter broadcast, "Case of the Easter Bonnet," which was also presented for the school.

Speech courses aren't entirely fun. Before a play is given the students must have much coaching and studying. Character make-up, presenting monologues, studying techniques, and gesturing are only a few of the many things that speech students learn. Through the use of the wire recorder students study their voices. Forty minutes of class speeches and a ten minute lecture help to make up the speech course.

1. Ooooh! I wanna go back to Sandusthke! or Henry really has troubles over his home.
2. "Are you sure? No, I don't eat those."
3. Wait 'til I take down this poem. "And all the little birdies go cheep, cheep, cheep! or Oh! Oh! A. B's punch drunk again.
4. Mellow-drama, how mellow?
5. (inset) "Anybody want to go up?" Seems all's well with the play so far.

Speech students learn, among other things, the art of correctly and skillfully applying make-up of all kinds. At left, sophomore Jack Farlow gives with a "Chinese Philosopher" effect while senior Harold Hudson plays tough guy.

Lights, curtain, action! Prompter Martha Pressy gives the cue while Harold Johnston pulls the curtain and Pete Boles stands by to adjust the lighting.

Learning to use the tape recorder are sophomores Wanda Barnes, Gerald Summerford, and Mary Nell White. Speech classes use the recorder to help students find their mistakes when they are studying lines.

More make-up, or is it make-up? is applied by Nancy Bronson and Ella Jean Sowards. Why the coat, Ella Jean?

News Gatherers Keep Students Up-to-Date

The Lariat

Compared to the 42-person staff of the spring Lariat, the 13 lonely journalists who put out the nine fall editions of the paper were a mere skeleton crew.

Headed by co-editors Marky Shannon and Jerry Ann Byars, the staff consisted of Joan Windmiller, feature editor, Anne Bigby, copy editor, Don Carroll, sports editor, and Jimmy Ponder, exchange editor.

The small staff seemed adequate, however, as the Lariat won various city honors in the annual contest sponsored by the Fort Worth Press, and brought home an All-State rating from the annual convention in Denton.

Eight of the class wrote enough material to be eligible for the Quill & Scroll, national journalism fraternity.

Altogether and quiet, for once, the Fall Lariat staff is, seated, Anne Bigby*, copy editor; Jerry Ann Byars*, co-editor; Marky Shannon*, co-editor; and Joan Windmiller*, feature editor. Standing, Allan Bridges*, Pat Crowley*, Don Carroll, sports editor, B. D. Griffin, Winston Measures*, Allen Crowley, and Billy "Bronco" Roberts. Absent members are Jimmy Ponder*, exchange editor, and Ronnie McBee.

*designates members of the Quill and Scroll.

Jackie Porter beams happily over her position as editor-in-chief of the spring Lariat.

Advertising for the Lariat is handled by a business staff under the sponsorship of Mr. H. J. Brown, vice-principal. Business staff are, seated, Toy Mitchell, Kenneth Thach, business manager, and Sue Tomlinson. Standing are J. D. Horne, Kathryn Henson, Tommy Hardegree, Mary Marshall, and Willard French. After working two years on the business staff, these students will receive a silver steer head for their services.

The editorial staff of The Lariat from the Period 1 class are, seated, Phyllis Smyth, feature editor, and Barbara Brent, associate editor. Standing, or leaning, behind them are Henry Laughlin, art editor, Lee Johnson, exchange editor, Donald Nored, sports editor, Pat Poindexter, news editor, and Gloria Woodlock, copy editor. Besides the named jobs of these people, they also each cover an assigned beat such as orchestra, speech, or foods.

Period 2 staff at attention, or partially at least, are, seated, Mildred Bullock, copy editor, Sue Tomlinson, associate editor, Barbara Brown, news editor, and, standing, Bobby Roberts, sports editor, Sam Harward, exchange editor, Loma Jean Smith, feature editor, and Jack Demetruk, photography editor. The two staffs rotate on the putting out of the paper, so that once a month each staff edits one edition.

Second row: Bobby Moore, Mae Jean Hill, Jerrie Hurleer, Jo Ann Napps, Doris Barton, Vinita Mason, and Evonne Albin.

Third row: Robert Haddix, Georgia Jones, Patsy Pharis, Betty Foster, Mary Katherine Gray, Christine Hill, and Wally Stewart.

Who Misspelled That Name?!!

Ask Jack, He's Editor

The Lasso

Competent and hard-working editor-in-chief of the Lasso is Jack Demetruk, senior.

Jack has worked his way up from sophomore assistant, make-up editor, his junior year, to his present top staff position.

Scraping up the scraps of the activities of the year to make into a sort of "picture book" was the job of the fourteen members of the Lasso staff under the direction of two faculty sponsors, Mrs. Gene C. Thompson, publication sponsor, and Mr. H. R. McDaniel, photography sponsor.

The preparation of page plans and all the art work for the book were begun early last fall, and the photography staff began work shortly after. All copy work was started at the beginning of the spring semester.

The photography work, with the exception of the class pictures which were taken by Taylor Studio, was done here in the school by Mr. McDaniel and his sharp shooting crew of three boys.

The publications part of the book was done by the copy staff, art, and make-up editors, and the sophomore assistants, under the direction of Mrs. Thompson.

Faculty sponsors and the guiding hands of the Lasso are Mrs. Gene C. Thompson, journalism instructor, and Mr. H. R. McDaniel, chemistry teacher, who heads the photography work.

These two have devoted much time and effort to completing the Lasso.

The Lasso staff for '50 are, seated, left to right, Pat Crowley, sports editor, Jerry Ann Byars, copy editor, Jack Demetruk, editor-in-chief, Sue Tomlinson, make-up editor, and Henry Laughlin, art editor. Standing are Jimmy Ponder, Anne Bigby, Bill Bradley, Doris Lucas, Donald Nored, photography editor, Beverly West, Chris Hentzen, Mildred Bullock, and Marky Shannon.

The combined effort of these hard-working people is what brings out the Lasso to its many subscribers.

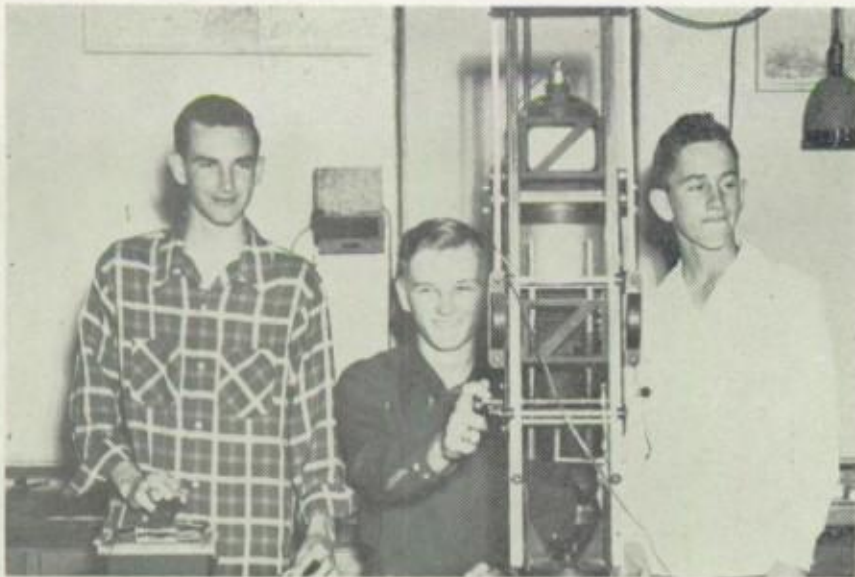

All the art work and page plans for the Lasso were done by Henry Laughlin, left, art editor. Jack Demetruk, center, is editor-in-chief, and Sue Tomlinson is make-up editor.

Copy writing for the Lasso was done by Jerry Ann Byars, copy editor and her crew of three assistant copy writers. Left to right they are Mildred Bullock, Anne Bigby, Jerry Ann, and Marky Shannon.

Taking the "shots" and doing the other photography work for the yearbook, under the direction of Mr. H. R. McDaniel, were Donald Nored, photography editor, Jack Demetruk, and Chris Hentzen. George Cravens, absent, is also a member of the crew.

The copy writing for the sports section of the Lasso was done by the two boys on the right. They are Jimmy Ponder, left, and Pat Crowley, sports editor.

Smearing glue, checking name lists, and just acting as general flunkies for the higher staff position holders were sophomore assistants Beverly West, left, Bill Bradley, and Doris Lucas.

Lots of luck and the

Allen Leads Steers Over Eagles, 19-7

BY PHIL COLLIER
Star-Telegram Sports Writer

North Side rocketed toward the city schoolboy football championship Thursday night at Farrington Field by thrashing favored Amon Carter Riverside, 19-7, before 6,350 fans. It was the second straight conference victory for the Steers, their fourth triumph in six 1949 engagements and perhaps strongest showing to date.

The loss was the Eagles' in as many league games as actually eliminated them from contention.

In standing for a surprising loss suffered at the hands of the Eagles last season, the Steers rode the passing arm of Quarterback Kermit Allen for one touchdown in each of the first periods.

Carter Riverside, its confidence shaken by the absence of back Richard Bateman, intercepted a pass and won 22 yards plays for its only touchdown in the third period.

Eagles Miss Bateman.

The Eagles could have Bateman, who completed 20 passes against Arlington Heights last week, but it's doubtful if the 215-pounder could turn the tide of battle. Out of the proceedings with a leg brace that made even walking difficult.

A 21-yard punt return by back J. W. Montgomery of Steers in motion for the opening touchdown the time they had the ball. In his safety with Allen, Montgomery took a handoff and down the east side of the field.

Track Team Leans on Lettermen Of Last Year, States Track Coach

"This year's track team will be built around J. W. Montgomery, Val Martin, and Toppy Ponder," states Mr. L. B. Morris, head coach.

"Our whole track program is in a state of rebuilding," explains Mr. Morris. The Steers lost Charles Davis and Darrow Hooper, all-American, in the weights, in addition to all middle distance and distance men.

Prospects Spotted

Montgomery will lead the newcomers in the quarter mile and the dashes. Ponder and Martin will pace the team in the hurdles and the jumps. Mr. Morris says that some of his young prospects look well, but they have to be tried.

"We are counting on Jack Webb to point in the city," Morris said.

North Side track the city champion for four years and will be in the state meet.

Morris said, "How year, I don't know."

North Side Leads City in Passing Jacket Ground Game Clicking; Panthers Set Salty Defense

BY PHIL COLLIER
Star-Telegram Sports Writer

North Side and Amon Carter Riverside, which meet Thursday at Farrington Field, are 1-2 in passing for the season at Fort Worth City Conference. Carter Riverside has completed 49 of their second week of league warfare.

The Steers have completed 54 of 104 passes they've thrown in five games this year for a highly respectable average of 319. The record jumped last week when Quarterback Kermit Allen hit 14 of 18 tries.

NORTH SIDE also is high in yardage gained. Amon Carter Riverside has completed 49 of 104 passes for a 600 average and has gained 216 yards in this manner. Richard Bateman, the Steers' star fullback, nearly upset Arlington Heights last week by connecting on 14 of 17 tries.

Heights and Panther each have played rushing in state but the Panthers have more yards than the Steers in the only other game to be played against rushing in the city. The Steers hit 400 yards on the ground for an average of 133 yards per play.

By numerous injuries, Poly and Grand Paul Ponder and Grand Paul Ponder were nursing leg.

Steer Loss To Reagan Not So Bad

For a bull club which lost to John Reagan of Houston last night 23-13 at Farrington Field, North Side's Steers today found themselves in a very novel position.

Having developments to the night's Poly-Plains game, the Steers are the highest scoring city team at the moment, a surprising thought considering they are rated down the ladder below both Panther and Arlington Heights.

But even though their 13 out-

With only five returning lettermen from the 1948 team, the Steers' football squad was composed largely of boys up from the past season's "All-Americans." Doped early in the season to tie for third, with Poly and Riverside, the North Siders won both of these games and held third place alone after leading the district until the last two weeks of play.

Early in the season, the five lettermen, Ronnie McBee, Billy "Bronco" Roberts, Paul Ponder, B. D. Griffin, and Pat Crowley, elected "Bronco" and Pat as co-captains, with each of the other three acting as honorary captains in three different games. After the season was over, the twenty-two lettermen elected a captain and co-captain from the boys who will be back next year. Edward "Tippy" Ponder is the new captain and Kermit Allen was chosen as co-captain for 1950.

The Steers dropped their first two games to John Reagan of Houston and to Lubbock but came back to end the non-conference schedule with a two won, two lost record with victories over Childress and Crozier Tech of Dallas. Although they were outweighed, on the average, in every game they played, the North Siders ended the season with a total of five wins and four losses. Their line averaged 162 pounds.

At the end of the season, statistics showed that North Side had the leading passing combination in the city. With quarterback Kermit Allen throwing to all-state end, Ronnie McBee, and Tippy Ponder, also an end, the three finished the season with Kermit as the leading passer in the city in the district and Ronnie as the leading receiver, with Tippy right behind Ronnie.

Mr. Paul Snow, head coach, became ill just before the district play started and the Steers finished out the season under the direction of Mr. L. B. Morris, assistant coach. The school board, just before spring training started, appointed Mr. Kenneth Gire, head coach at McKinney to the head position at North Side, and Mr. Gire took charge of the spring training.

- Row 1—William Hogan, Bobby Wilson, Ted McDaniel, Jimmy Ponder, Morgan Cooner, Jack Malone, Forrest Lykins, Val Martin
 Row 2—Harry Warren, Yancey Norman, Douglas Gardner, Dean Downing, Jackie Dumas, George Beal, Billy Roberts, Pat Crowley, Paul Ponder, B. D. Griffin.
 Row 3—Gene Lane, Robert Haddix, David Finney, Billy Brown, Robert Barksdale, Kenneth Foster, Eugene Matthews, Jimmie Jordan.
 Row 4—Irvin Rogers, Gene Welborn, Billy Roe, Donald Coffee, Henry Laughlin, Ronnie McBee, Edward Ponder, Kermit Allen and L. V. Miller.

Starting the games for the Steers this year, were, front row, Toppy Ponder, Eugene Matthews, Pat Crowley, Donald Coffee, Paul Ponder, Bronco Roberts, and Ronnie McBee; second row, Gene Welborn, Kermit Allen, L. V. Miller, and B. D. Griffin. This year's lettermen are pictured on pages 74, 75, and 76.

All athletic teams at North Side were under the direction of five coaches, Mr. Paul Snow, Mr. Kenneth Gire, Mr. L. B. Morris, Mr. Ted Koonce, and Mr. Lewis Doan. The four major sports under their directions were football, basketball, baseball, and track.

Mr. Snow had charge of the football team during the fall until he became ill in October. Mr. Morris then finished the season with the Steers owning a 5-won, 4-lost record. Mr. Gire was hired by the school board just before spring training started and took charge of the spring grid training.

Mr. Koonce had charge of the basketball team, and Mr. Doan assisted him by taking over the B-team. The basketball team finished with a 4 won, 6 lost record. At the time of publication, the track and baseball teams had not been organized, but Mr. Morris whose teams have won the district races for the past five years, is in charge of track, and Mr. Doan, who was at Tech last year, had charge of the baseball team.

All Americans - B Teamers Worked Hard, Too!

The All Americans under new coach Lewis Doan fought their way through a 7 win, 3 defeat season. This team, made up of sophomores and juniors, worked its way up to the championship game with old rival Paschal, only to fall 41 to 12. The boys who play B-team football play not for the recognition, but for the experience they receive, which helps them to get a shot at the A-team next year.

A semi-platoon system was used on offense and defense, thus doing away with a definite starting lineup. Boys participating in most of the action were Dockery, Reed, Day, and Bullon at ends, Dean, Nelson, J. Smith, and Wilkinson at the tackle positions, Chadwell, Morrison, Mooreman, and Bunker filling the guard slots, Spruill and Sublett at center, and Morris, Valle, Ochoa, Runnels, Lockett, Edwards, and Tidwell in the backfield. Billy Spruill and Tommy Runnels served as co-captains for this year's team.

The All-Americans ran from the T-formation basically, like that used by the A-team. They also used variations of the spread, spreading either right or left and sometimes leaving the quarterback under the center. Their running and passing game was very well-balanced. Showing as well as their offense was their defense. These boys had a good defensive record against larger and faster teams.

A double round robin is played by the B-teams. This gives each team two chances at all the other teams in the district.

Hard-working managers for the football boys were Roger "Willie" Driskill, Glenn "Doc" Creamer, and Allen "Corkey" Crowley.

"B" teamers line up for the 'pitcher' taking. They are, left to right:

Row 1—Mayfield, Woodall, Bunker, Chadwell, Morrison, Spruill, Runnels, Ochoa, Valle, Scogin, Barnes, Mooreman, Flores.

Row 2—Heizman, Cain, Lockett, Tidwell, Blessing, Livesay, Coffee, Dockery, Reed, Edwards, Bullon, Dato, Wolfe, Nieswiadomy, Mattinson, Moore.

Row 3—Gee, Jones, Wilkinson, Harper, Cook, Nelson, Tinsley, Dean, Day, French, Morris, Maley, Sublett, Smith, Nettles, Johnston, Cunningham.

Koonce's Kids Prove Little, But Capable Contenders!

Captain of the 1949-50 basketball team, M. L. Chapman, prepares for a long shot.

Under the able guidance of little M. L. Chapman, captain of the 1950 basketball team, the Steers won four conference games and lost six, although the starting five averaged only 5 feet 11 inches in height.

Finishing fifth, right behind Carter-Riverside, Coach Ted Koonce's team was rated at the close of the season as the most improved in the city. The boys won two games from Tech, 48-26 and 48-23, and two from Carter 33-31 and 47-40. They dropped two to Arlington Heights 28-50 and 33-36, two to Poly, district champs, 40-51 and 25-47, and finally two to Paschal, the defending State Champions from last year and district runner-up this year, 15-45 and 27-33.

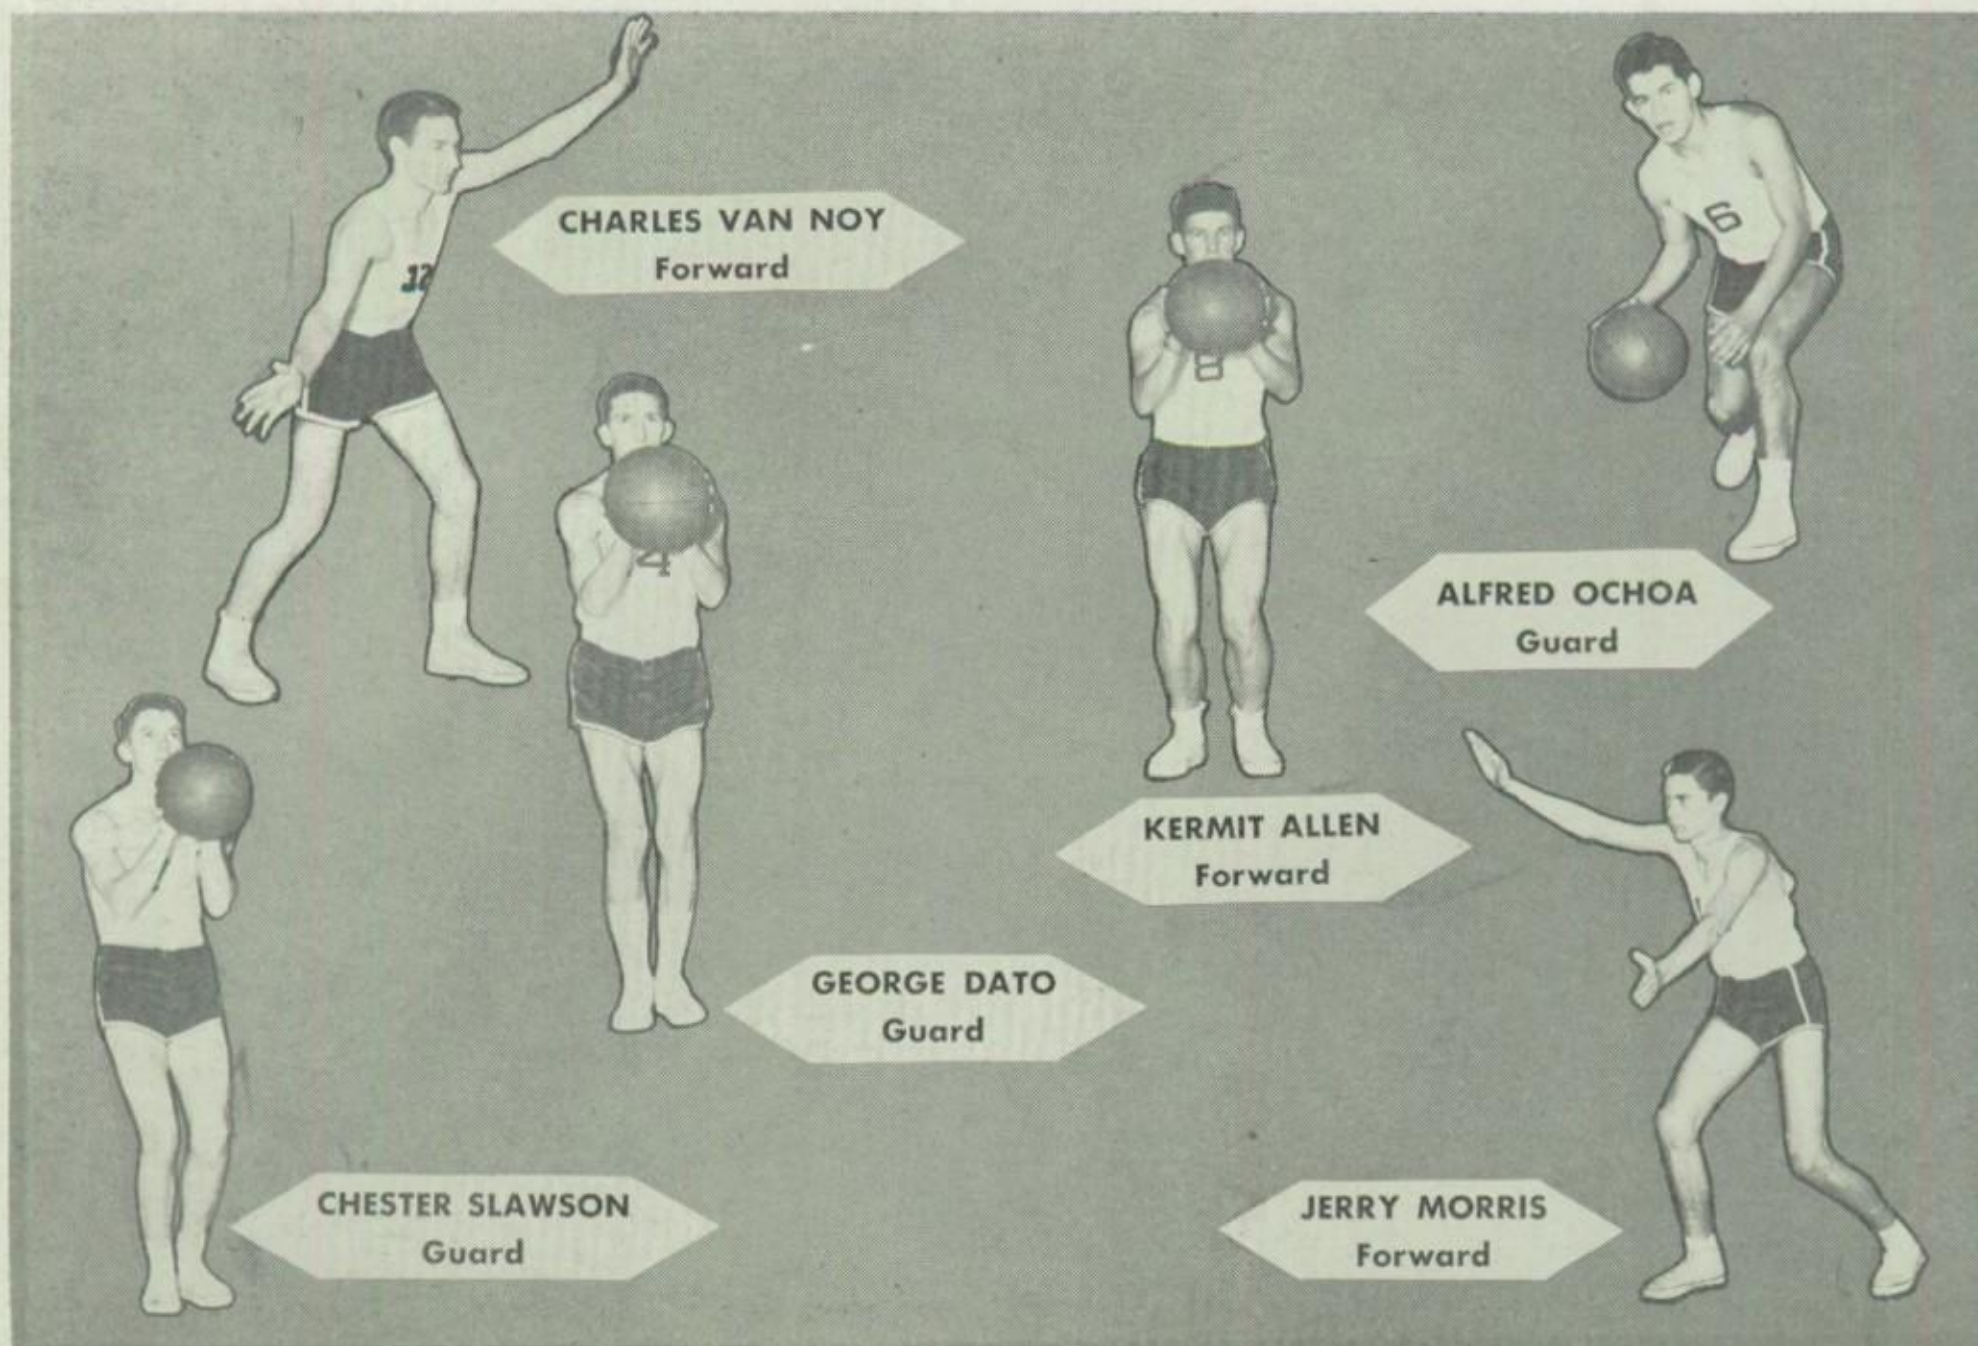

With Captain Chapman and Edward "Topsy" Ponder leading the way with 75 and 61 points, respectively, the Steers amassed a total of 344 points in district play. The boys accounting for the majority of these points were the starting five, M. L. Chapman, Topsy Ponder, Jerry Morris, David Finney, and Chester Slawson, and Kermit Allen, Henry Laughlin, and George Dato.

The Steers were greatly handicapped after the second conference game because of the loss of one of last year's co-captains, Ronnie McBee, due to the eight semester ruling.

The 1950 "A" Basketball team had thirteen members, excluding Ronnie. The "A" squad members were M. L. Chapman, Topsy Ponder, Jerry Morris, Chester Slawson, David Finney, Kermit Allen, Henry Laughlin, Carlos Myres, George Dato, Johnny Valle, Jack Spurrier, Alfred Ochoa, and Charles Van Noy, shown on page 78-79. All were "B" team members last year, with the exception of returning lettermen M. L. Chapman, Topsy Ponder, and Carlos Myres and Alfred Ochoa, who just came up from J. P. Elder.

In pre-district games the Steers met such teams as Denton, Diamond Hill, North Dallas, Adamson, Canton, and Jesuit. They played two games each with Denton, North Dallas, and Adamson. In the two games against Denton, the Steers dropped the first 42-48, but came back for a 43-39 win the second time they met. Against North Dallas they dropped both games, 33-41 and 32-45. Adamson also bested them in two contests, 32-35 and 40-52. In the other three games, they beat Diamond Hill, 57-29, beat Canton, 39-23, but lost the pre-district finale, 45-61, to Jesuit in the Dr. Pepper tournament at Dallas.

Captained by J. W. Montgomery and Val Martin, this year's track team looked to its five returning lettermen from the '49 City Conference runners-up team for their points.

At the time of publication, the Steers, led by Coach L. B. Morris, had placed third in the Stock Show Track Meet and had done well in dual meets with North Texas State freshmen. The Steers had also successfully defended their championship, March 25, in the Tomato Bowl and finished first in the fifth annual Possum Kingdom Relays at Graham, March 31. They had also scheduled a dual meet with Waco in Waco on April 8.

A system of tri-angular meets was started March 21 at Farrington Field in preparation for the city meet. North Side won this first one with a total of 80½ points. Each team in the district competed against each other one twice.

The City Meet, scheduled for April 27 and 28, was a heated one, with every team supporting some strong individual entries. All of the Fort Worth schools had good team entries, but no one team was expected to dominate the meet.

The first three winners in each event in the City Meet participated in the City Conference Championship Meet, May 12, in Houston. Either a Houston or San Antonio team was favored to win this meet because of their better track weather.

This year's team was strong in the high hurdles, 440 run, pole vault, shot put, and high jump. Much work was being put in on the weak points of the team throughout the season.

State Runners-up

Hit Dat Ol' Apple!!

With two of the four returning lettermen, Bobby Moore, catcher, and Olan Fowler, center-fielder, acting as co-captains, the 1950 Steer baseball squad was getting ready for their first game against Denton at the time of publication.

All four of the returning lettermen gained starting positions on the squad. The co-captains, Bobby and Olan, were at catcher and center-field, respectively. The other two, Kermit Allen and Jerry Morris, were at third base and right field. The other positions were held by Henry Laughlin, squad-man, at first base, George Dato at second base, Tommy Runnels at short stop, and Gene Nieswiadomy in left field.

The pitching staff of the Steers was very inexperienced, but Coach Lewis Doan found some promising young pitchers in Robert Votaw, Charles Scogin, and Leslie Mattinson, all juniors with another year of eligibility. One senior, M. L. Chapman, was also developing a few good pitches and had possibilities.

The first-string boys were being pressed hard by a bunch of the second string, mostly sophomores and juniors, for their standing berths. The second-stringers hustling for positions were William Hogan, catcher, Darwin Southerland, first, Fred DeMalade, second, Gene Morrison, third, Chris Heizman, short, and outfielders Gene Kays, Norman Beene, and Billy Spruill.

Returning lettermen on the '50 squad were Olan Fowler, center field, Kermit Allen, third base, Bobby Moore, catcher, and Jerry Morris, right field.

Lively and Loud, Those Yell Leaders

Head yell leader, Joan Windmiller, received her position after two years hard work in the field.

Three old hands and five new ones made up the eight yell leaders for the '49-'50 season. Head yell leader Joan Windmiller, senior Don Carroll, and junior Kitty Malone all had two years experience, while the remaining five, M. L. Chapman, Doris Barton, Chester Slawson, Betty Porter, and Ralph Carr, although new at the business, learned rapidly.

Miss Frances Schober holds the position of sponsor for the eight yell leaders.

N CLUB - At last our jackets arrived

Officers for the "N" club for '50 are, left to right, M. L. Chapman, vice president, Kitty Malone, secretary, and Tippy Ponder, president.

- Yell leaders and athletes, both male and female, receive letters for good work. This year's "N" Club members are:
- Row 1—Jerry Morris, Chester Slawson, Ralph Carr, Kitty Malone, Betty Porter Doris Barton, Barbara Dearson, Jeannine Jackson, Joy Anderson, Gailya Brown, and Donald Anderson.
- Row 2—Wally Stewart, M. L. Chapman, Ted McDaniel, George Beal, Dean Downing, Gene Welborn, Carlos Myres, Jack Malone, Bobby McDaniel, Yancey Norman, and Warren Davenport.

Straight Shooting vs. A Nice Racquet

Pretty Misses Make a Hit!

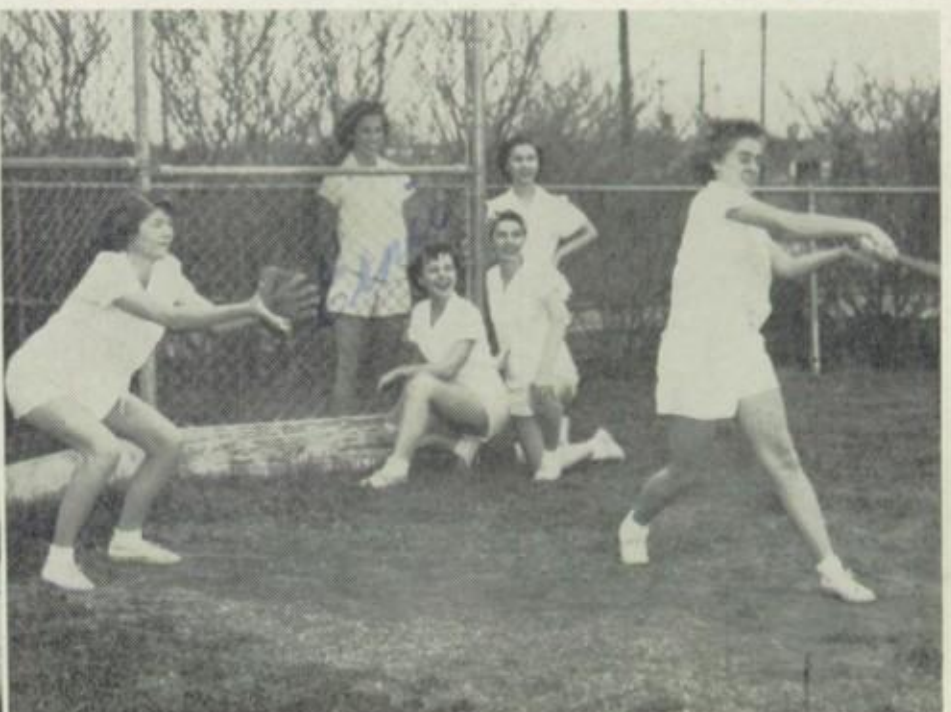

North Side girls were not left completely out of the sports limelight by the boys in 1949 and '50, as they were engaged in such activities as various types of dancing, calisthenics, marching, softball, volley ball, basketball, tennis, and archery.

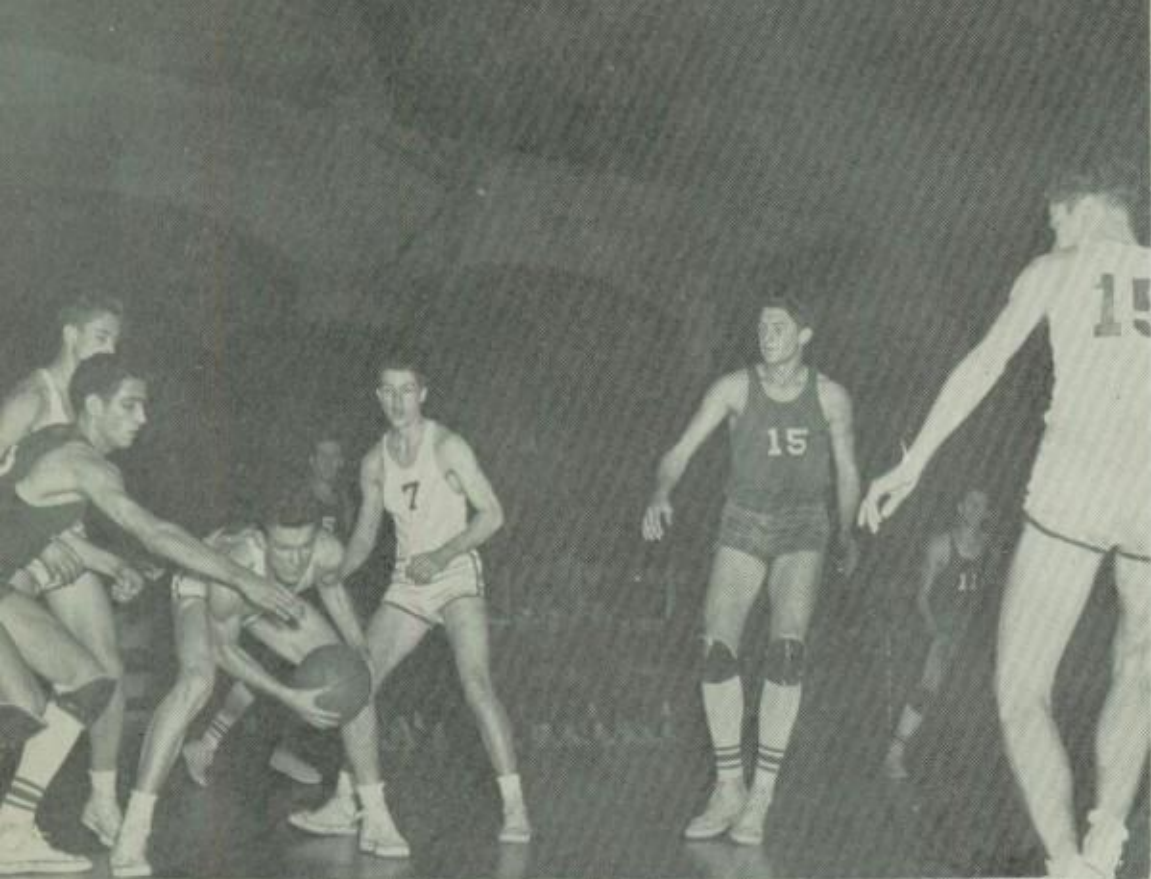

The girls Physical Education classes, taught by Mrs. Cara Dee Millsap and Mrs. Ina Davies, learned ballroom dancing as well as folk and square dancing. Champion teams were also recognized in such sports as softball, volley ball, and basketball. The teams played each other in class and after school for the school championships.

Top left—Pat Poindexter shows her championship archery form . . . Top right—Deloris Aston, Carolyn Parker, Janet Clayton, and Janette Watters perform a folk dance . . . Lower left—Mary Milligan and Glena Cox take a breather . . . Lower right — Patsy Pharis and Wanda Price enter the shower room after a hard (?) workout.

Ten pretty girls, a dance or a title for Patsy Woodson, Ann Fincher, Mary Milligan, Polly Flenniken, Loma Jean Smith, Barbara Williams, Glena Cox, Gwenell Miller, Minnie Judge, and Bobby Cluck . . . Volley ball enthusiasts are Jerrie Fincher, Doris Lucas, Pat Goodman, Toy Laymance, and Doris Ralph . . . A group of hopeful champs, kneeling, Nedra Pigg, Peggy Averett, Margie Van Eman, Jodie Swart, Joy Holloway, Joan Lunsford. Back row are Mrs. Ina Davies, teacher, Gailya Brown, Loyce Johnson, Peggy Sellers, and Rita Jolley . . . Look at that form! (Baseball, that is.) Catcher Pat Goodman stretches as Janet Sutherland swings at a high one. Watching are Veda Hanson and Doris Ralph, kneeling, and Ernestine Roberts and Barbara Brown, standing.

Action!

Riverside's ball-carrier is stopped quickly by the hustling Steers . . . David Finney grabs the ball while Topsy Ponder and Chester Slawson wait in readiness . . . There is action in girls' basketball, too, as displayed by Clarice Brown, Nancy Baggs, Shirley Mercer, and Janet Sutherland . . . Gene Welborn scores against Tech "right through the middle." Henry Laughlin grapples for the ball while Topsy Ponder dances to "Put your Little Foot."

Sweethearts of Steerland

The year of 1949-50 brought its share of beauty in the form of sports queens. Upper left is Basketball Sweetheart Donna Muffett who reigned over the activities and was crowned queen at the "N" club dance. Right is Football Sweetheart Lois Pittman who was presented during the half-time activities of the North Side—Paschal football game on Thanksgiving. Center are the runners-up for Football Sweetheart, Lucille Hickman and Barbara Head. All the girls are seniors.

Peggy - Well its been a tough battle through school, but I think spite it all we are going to graduate. We had our little spots and our big ones, but never the less I think you're swell. Remember the and good luck to you and both, I know you will be happy.

Self-grading to Be Stressed
By Revised Edition of B.R.O.

Self-grading by the individual school will be emphasized in the completely revised edition of the Better Relations Organization which was drawn up in a meeting at Paschal High school on September 26. Unlike the old plan under which each school was graded by an opposing school, the new organization provides for a personal system, that is, each school will grade its own students. A point system was adopted. If it's down for more than one week the school does not receive a plaque will be awarded.

We Got Spurs That Sparkle

"When it rains it pours!" Spurs, that is. Of the three divisions of the Spur Club the bronze spur club members are the largest group with thirty-four members. The going gets tougher as the students reach for their silver spurs, although even fewer and farther between are the senior members of the Spur Club who receive their gold spurs.

The fourth year for the North Side Spur Club, which was organized by Miss Margaret Hooker, dean of girls and Mr. L. L. McCombs, ex-vice principal, is now in progress. Mr. McCombs had always been faculty co-sponsor until this year. He is principal of William James Junior High School at the present time.

This club is a scholastic organization for the highest ten per cent of the students in each of the three classes. Bronze, silver, and gold spurs designate the first, second and third year members respectively. These members are awarded their spurs in an assembly program during the spring semester. Miss Margaret Hooker and Mr. H. J. Brown, new vice-principal, are the active faculty sponsors of the club.

As a service activity for the student body, the Spur Club publishes a student handbook and directory at the beginning of each school year.

Row 1—Dories Newsom, Mary Mitchell, Norma Jean Case, Wanda Barnes, George Blazi, June Johnson, Marguerite Higgins, Gerald Summerford, Nancy Garner, Marcia Boone, and Jim Hall.

Row 2—Jackie Gray, Doris Lucas, Jeannine Jackson, Jimmy Ponder, Betty Foster, Joy Anderson, Don Anderson, Gailya Brown, and Anne Henry.

Row 3—Jackie McClellen, Cecilia Martin, R. C. Griffitt, Kenneth Day, Peggy Stokes, Harry Warren, Bobby Anderson, LaNelle Johnson, and Dixie Bennett. The members of the Thespian Society which is a nation wide organization get points toward membership work done in dramatic productions.

Future Teachers of America

Home Room Representatives

Row 1—Wanda Barnes, Nancy Baggs, Mae Jean Hill, Janette Watters, Kitty Malone, and Joy Anderson.

Row 2—Peggy Hite, Janelle McFarland, Jo Ann Johnson, Patsy Pharis, Marky Shannon, Betty Porter, and Cecilia Martin.

Row 3—Pat Crowley, George Beal, Herby Teasley, Kenneth Thach, Chester Slawson, Bobby McDaniels, and Toppy Ponder. Representatives were elected in each home room to promote and take care of the Lasso sales in that room.

National Honor Society

Row 1—Doris Wiles, Dolores Chavez, Mildred Bullock, Pat Crowley, Donald Nored, and Carlos Myres.

Row 2—Barbara Brent, Joyce Dechert, Cecil McRee, Jack Demetruk, Joan Dunson Harvey, Vinita Mason, and Ann Miller Slater.

Row 3—Jimmy Jordan, Robert Barksdale, and J. D. Horne.

Row 4—Clarice Brown, Patsy Wood, Jackie Porter, Anne Bigby, Barbara Brown, Mae Jean Hill, and Lorene McCullar.

The National Honor Society is composed of the top 15% of the graduating senior class.

Not Shown—Jerrie Fincher, Sally McDonald Milan, Wanda Himes Mingus, La Juana Smith, Lorinda Beene, Freddy Byas, Betty Eck Davis, Barbara Head, Joan Windmiller.

School 'til Noon: To Work in Afternoon

A D. E. Student's Routine

Distributive Education is a vocational training program in distributive occupations, such as retailing, wholesaling, and service selling. Its purpose is to enable students to gain practical experience in these businesses while studying the same principles at school.

The different types of training that the students receive include selling, receiving and marking, shipping, gift wrapping, mail order, interior decoration, display, credit, and delivery.

Classroom studies differ according to the various vocations. General discussions on personality development, employer-employee relationship, business speech, store arithmetic, and principles of store organization and operations are held daily.

These students are all members of the Distributive Education Clubs of America, a national organization.

Each year, representatives of every local club attend the state convention, including a banquet, a dance, and business meetings.

Officers of the state club are elected, and seven delegates are chosen to attend the national convention, one similar to the state convention. Officers are also elected for the national club.

This year the state convention was held at San Angelo, Texas, in February. The national convention was held in Ashville, North Carolina, in April.

Since every student in D.E. is a representative of his school, he is checked for grades, cooperation with others, and willingness to learn before he may enter into the D.E. program.

A prospective student must want to take D.E., must be able to use it, and must need it.

Best Luck &
Wishes for much happiness and success.
I have enjoyed knowing
you. Be sweet.

Love you,
Elizabeth Campbell

Dear Peg,

I've thoroughly enjoyed knowing you through junior & senior high school. At first I don't think we got along too well together because we were both so stubborn & hard headed & we got into arguments over small and petty things and we let them amount to an awful lot and make us disagree but I think we have finally discovered a friendship that will be lasting and I hope that it is. I hope that even through life as we go our own ways that we will remain friends.

Always,

Pat Poindester
